LAW IN CONTEXT, 5th ed

Stephen Bottomley
and Simon Bronitt

March 2023

c.528pp

PB 9781760023531

eBook 9781760023843

RRP $110

A long awaited new edition of this Australian law in context text for students by ANU professor Stephen Bottomley and University of Sydney law dean Simon Bronitt. Students are introduced to the wider social, political and regulatory contexts affecting how laws are made, broken and enforced by the state or individual citizens. The fundamental ideals of law – such as the Rule of Law – rest on cherished liberal values, though the authors constantly encourage readers not to accept the rhetoric of law uncritically, but to test these assumptions through empirical eyes.

WORK HEALTH AND SAFETY REGULATION IN AUSTRALIA

Richard Johnstone
and Michael Tooma

August 2022

448pp

PB 9781760024024

eBook 9781760024031

RRP $145

A new title written by QUT professor Richard Johnstone and leading work health and safety law practitioner Michael Tooma. Work health and safety regulation is an important and fast developing area of labour law. Over the past decade work health and safety law in Australia has undergone major reform, with all but one of the Australian jurisdictions adopting the Model Work Health and Safety Act 2010. This book analyses the Australian work health and safety statutes just over 11 years after the Model Act was first adopted.

224pp
HB 9781760021955
eBook 9781760023591
Academic price $108.75
RRP $145
Inspection copy not available

This work explains how statutes underpin and inform the whole of the law of negligence. It shows how throughout the entirety of the law of negligence – including duty, breach, causation, contributory negligence, statutory contribution, proportionate liability and damages – statutes have been responsible for the law as it is now understood and practised.

CRIMINAL LAW AND EVIDENCE

CRIMINAL LAWS: Materials and Commentary on Criminal Law and Process of New South Wales, 7th ed

David Brown, David Farrier, Luke McNamara, Alex Steel, Michael Grewcock, Julia Quilter, Melanie Schwartz, Thalia Anthony and Arlie Loughnan

January 2020
1504pp
PB 9781760021795
eBook 9781760022624
RRP $165

This book has been updated to reflect important new legislation, case law and policy. It incorporates the latest research on the impact of criminal laws and the associated practices of police, prosecutors, courts and prisons. The combination of primary sources with critical commentary and a contextual perspective makes this the ideal teaching text.

CRIMINAL LAWS NORTHERN TERRITORY, 3rd ed

Stephen Gray, Jenny Blokland, Ben Grimes and Julian R. Murphy

February 2021
512pp
PB 9781760022587
eBook 9781760022945
RRP $95

The third edition of this unique book has been updated and expanded to include a new chapter on language and the law and details about the Royal Commission into the Protection and Detention of Children. CRIMINAL DUE PROCESS AND CHAPTER III OF THE AUSTRALIAN CONSTITUTION

Anthony Gray

August 2016
336pp
PB 9781760020767
eBook 9781760023652
RRP $99

This book discusses the potential of the principle of separation of powers reflected in the structure and text of the Australian Constitution to protect fundamental due process rights. The author argues observing these rights in the criminal law area, such as presumption of innocence, the right to silence and the right to confront accusers, among others, is so fundamental to criminal procedure that laws abrogating these expectations are vulnerable to constitutional challenge.

VICTORIAN CRIMINAL PROCEDURE: State and Federal Law 2019

Richard Fox and Nadia Deltondo

February 2019
640pp
PB 9781760021870
eBook 9781760022808
RRP $110

This book offers a comprehensive overview of the law governing the procedures for prosecuting offenders against Commonwealth and state law in Victoria. It covers areas such as: the machinery of federal and state prosecutions, representation and legal aid, contempt, arrest, search and seizure, charges, bail, procedure in summary prosecutions, jury trials, and appeals in criminal matters.

CRIMINAL LAW AND EVIDENCE

THE CRIMINAL TRIAL: Courtroom Practices, Policies and Procedures

Brian Mills
August 2011
256pp
PB 9781862878372
RRP $59.95

This book describes and analyses the main rules of the law of evidence within a framework relevant to the policing profession. Its emphasis on the profession's role in the pre-trial and trial process as well as discussion of issues related to the 'professional witness' sets this text apart from others.

THE CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY COMPANION

Thalia Anthony and Chris Cunneen (eds)
February 2008
384pp
PB 9781876067236
eBook 9781760023799
RRP $64.95

The Companion is relevant to a broad range of courses and levels of study. It covers the major components of a Criminology course through a critical lens. It is a thorough introduction to concepts and critiques in criminology, as well as a provocative analysis of the assumptions underpinning the criminal justice system. Students, teachers and scholars in criminology, law and sociology will find this Companion invaluable.

LEARNING TO LITIGATE: A Guide for Young Lawyers

Neil Williams SC and Alison Hammond

October 2022
338pp
PB 9781760024079
eBook 9781760024086
RRP $89.95

The central tenet of this book is that great advocates are not born – they are made. Whether it be a plea of guilty before a magistrate or a multi-party commercial dispute involving billions of dollars and dozens of lawyers, each stage in the preparation and presentation of a case requires skills that must be learned, then honed. Combining the perspectives of an experienced silk and a relatively junior barrister, the result is a book which, as Chief Justice Kiefel writes in the Foreword, ‘... is essential reading for young litigators and their mentors.’

PLAIN LANGUAGE FOR LAWYERS, 4th ed

Michèle M Asprey

March 2010
352pp
PB 9781862877757
eBook 9781862877863
RRP $59.95

A comprehensive, entertaining and enormously useful text, internationally recognised as one of the best in the field. It contains practical advice, and can be read and enjoyed by anyone who is interested in plain language writing – not just lawyers. It introduces the concept of plain language and explains why it's needed, before covering in detail the fundamentals such as words, grammar and affectations to avoid.

RURAL LAW

THE PLACE OF PRACTICE: Lawyering in Rural and Regional Australia

Trish Mundy, Amanda Kennedy and Jennifer Nielsen (eds)

October 2017
288pp
PB 9781760021573
eBook 9781760022181
RRP $89.95

This book looks at how legal practice differs in rural and regional areas, and the particular issues and barriers facing these communities and clients. Subjects covered include: the practical and ethical settings of rural and regional legal practice; access to justice; entrepreneurship and innovation; and distinct practitioner and client contexts (including working with Indigenous clients).

LOCATING CRIME IN CONTEXT AND PLACE: Perspectives on Regional, Rural and Remote Australia

Alistair Harkness, Bridget Harris and David Baker (eds)

December 2015
240pp
PB 9781760020477
eBook 9781760022914
RRP $69.99

The urban focus of crime has dominated the attention of criminologists. Although images of idyllic, crime-free areas beyond the cityscape persist, there is scant academic consideration of the realities and variances of crime across regional, rural and remote Australia. The broad theme of the book is centred on 'context, place and space'; however, contributors also assess contextualisations of rurality, notions of access to justice and the importance of building social capital.

‘[A] principled approach to clarifying and simplifying compensation for native title loss.’

– from the Foreword by the Hon Justice Andrew Greenwood and Professor Jonathan Fulcher

This book is an original and significant contribution to our understanding of compensation for the extinguishment of native title rights. Although statutory entitlements to compensation have been available in the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) since its commencement, it was not until 2016 that the first judicial determination of compensation was made. A key theme throughout the book is a recognition of a tension between the desirability of applying existing legal principles and doctrines, while also recognising the uniqueness of native title.

PROPORTIONALITY IN AUSTRALIAN CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Full of insights, this slim volume adds to the lively debate on the doctrine of proportionality in Australian constitutional law. Recent cases have seen a splintering on the High Court, with some judges expressing support for proportionality as a useful tool in certain contexts, and others expressing deep reservations about it.

CONSTITUTIONAL RECOGNITION: First Peoples and the Australian Settler State

Dylan Lino

September 2018

336pp

PB 9781760021818

eBook 9781760023416

Academic Price $37.46

RRP $49.95

Providing the first comprehensive study of Indigenous constitutional recognition in Australia, Lino places the idea of constitutional recognition into a broad historical and theoretical perspective. After recounting the history of Australian debates on Indigenous recognition, the book presents an account that views constitutional recognition in terms of Indigenous peoples' struggles to have their identities respected within the settler constitutional order.
